Kernan Consulting Announces Another Peer Group Coaching Program called The Mastermind Roundtable

Omaha, NE (July 1st, 2018) Kernan Consulting (<https://www.kernanconsulting.com/>), an international technology consulting company offering Coaching, Advising and Mentoring programs to the small to midsize business owner, announced today that it will be introducing another Group Coaching Program. This CEO PEER GROUP CONSULTING PROGRAM is called the Mastermind Roundtable Coaching Program.

“This group coaching program is sales/marketing focused and will help get you working “ON” your business and not “IN” your business. We will review The Five Key Building Blocks of your business including Leadership, Business Development, People, Professional Services and Finance. We will go through every department in your business from Accounting to Operations and make them better. However, the real focus will be on growth – sales and marketing. We will share our Business Blueprint of best practices with the members. It is half education and half collaboration. Other like-minded individuals from around the country will be part of the group creating a culture of success and encouragement. It will also show you how to rapidly build your business while controlling costs at the same time”, explains James Kernan, CEO of Kernan Consulting.

We will deliver an educational tele-coaching call 1x a month – hold weekly accountability calls and quarterly group meetings in strategic cities across the US. We have over 50 Training Sessions and over 300 business templates available. Each call will be recorded so you can go back and listen at your leisure and follow along in the workbook. We also will have a private forum for member communications and questions. We will review every department in your business from accounting to operations, helping CEO’s become more successful and profitable.

The program starts with a business assessment giving us a gauge of where you are at. Then go through the rest of the sessions, one per month giving you time to make progress and complete tasks. We will review things like your sales process, accounting procedures, business best practices and the balance between work and family.
